Connect your brand with privacy leaders at Alpine Privacy Days

At Alpine Privacy Days, we understand the importance of continual learning and professional networking for data privacy professionals. Our conference is meticulously designed to offer both.

Engage in deep discussions and reflective dialogue led by some of the world's foremost experts in data protection law, including prominent lawyers, celebrated authors and esteemed university lecturers.

Expect an environment where expertise meets approachability, ensuring every participant can gain valuable insights while forming meaningful, lasting connections.

Warm regards

Kristin, Kristian and Lukas
